Street Traffic Problem Explodes

Parents Make Request For Signals To Avert Tragedy

"We feel that we should not wait until a student is killed or a serious tragedy takes place before we can get some action."

This statement came from Mrs. Marilyn Updike, safety chairman of the Mt. Miguel High School PTA. Her group wants a set of traffic signals installed at the intersection of Blossom lane and Sweetwater rd.

The PTA committee member sent to the county Board of Supervisors a list of 216 signatures of parents of students at Mt. Miguel asking for the traffic signals last week.

Mrs. Updike said, "Last year we had a great deal of correspondence between the PTA, the Board of Supervisors and the traffic commission in the county regarding this problem.

"Unfortunately, a problem exists where deaths indicate the 'need' for control in areas of high indensity traffic and student population," she said.

Rudy Massman of the road department in the county said that Sweetwater rd. handles around 13,000 cars a day and that it may justify spending $20,000 or more on traffic signals.

The problem is a duel one. Both mobil menas of travel and foot means are involved in the situation.

Students with their own cars, and parents wanting to pick up their children at the school add to the heavy traffic problems on Sweetwater.

Melvin C. Grant, principal at the school said, "This is a bad corner. I have had people come into my office after they have attempted to get into the flow of traffic on Sweetwater that are not able to do so."

Blossom ave., which runs east-west in direction is just north of the high school. It connects Sweetwater with Washington.

After school functions, and when school gets out, traffic is backed up on Blossom in such a manner that cars must try to return to Washington st., to reach Palm ave., to get to Sweetwater.

The school is not served by district school buses. All students live within a two and one-half mile radius. The greatest portion of the student body lives within a one mile radius.

When the principal was asked why so many students must take their cars to school when it is only a mile from home, he said: "It is the American way."

Try Walking

Grant added, "I have walked up Sweetwater, moving north, to see what it is like. It is not the best experience that I have ever had.

"Traffic is moving along at 45 miles per hour. There are portions of Sweetwater where one must actually walk out into the street in order to continue moving in the same direction.

"This places the pedistrian about two feet from a vehicle moving at a fast rate of speed. In addition, it is dirty, dusty, and dangerous."

Many of the kids have jobs after school hours, which qualifies their need driving to and from school. Other students have schedules that do not allow them to board a commercial bus that services the school area.

It has been suggested that side walks be placed along Sweetwater, and on streets that run down to the major artery.

This would allow students to walk safely to the school.

Massman pointed out that Sweetwater will continue to be overloaded with traffic until a state freeway on a parallel route is constructed.

HALLOWEEN CARNIVAL: The San Altos School PTA will sponsor a carnival on Thursday, Oct. 31 on the school grounds to aid the PTA's fund for student activities. Shown in the photo, sitting in one of the rides that will be available at the carnival are Mrs. Richard A. Dion, (left), and C. E. Paxton (right). Mrs. Dion is chairman for the event. Paxton, builder of the rides that will be at the carnival, has donated his equipment without cost to the group. The carnival will open at 5:30 p.m. and continue until 8:30 p.m. on that night.

BUSMAN'S HOLIDAY: Operator Mary Cordina (left) of 223 Cypress, Lemon Grove, and Service Assistant Betty Chambers of 1741 Woodburn, El Cajon, demonstrate the proper use of equipment in a new Pacific Telephone toll facility at 3500 Fifth Ave., San Diego. The recent demonstration came during an open house for families of company employes. The open house drew more than 370 persons.

Sweetwater Project Speed Up Asked For By Supervisor Dent

Supervisor Robert C. "Bob" Dent claims that Sweetwater Lake Recreational Park Project can be as important to residents of Spring Valley and Lemon Grove as Balboa Park is to San Diego.

Dent has said that this project, because of his efferts, has been approved as one of the County's three Parks resulting from the 1964 State Bond Issue that was passed for acquiring park lands.

A total of $2.4 million has been alloted for the San Diego County projects, including the development of a major recreational park on 1300 to 1400 acres of land surrounding Sweetwater Lake.

Dent recently stated that application has already been made to the Federal Government for a matching Federal Grant to help speed-up the purchase of the land and development of the park.

This is a three year project and negotiations with property owners have been started according to Dent.

Just what type of facility the Park will be is yet to be determined, but it is among the top priority projects on the parks and recreation programs, and it is possible that County funds can also be made available if needed.

Fishing, picnicing, boating, camping facilities, as well as an overnight camper area and golf course, are among the items most desired by the public according to preliminary surveys.

When completed, Dent believes that the Sweetwater Lake Park will provide an outstanding recreation facility for the County's Southern area as well as a major tourist attraction.

Irrigation Tax Bills Are Ready

Donald Shepard, Helix Irrigation District Assessor-Collector-Treasurer, has announced that 44,651 tax statements will be mailed during the last week of Oct.

According to Shepard, the entire tax or the first installment must be paid on or before Dec. 20 to avoid penalty, and the second installment becomes delinquent after June 20.

Helix Directors in action earlier in the year lowered the tax rate which is based on land value from 56.4c to 45.7c per $100 assessed valuation.

Shepard stated that the assessed valuation on land only lying within District boundaries is $80,471,400, and that the rate will produce a revenue of $458,711.

Tax assessment revenue is used to pay off long term debt and is not used for current op-

Will March In Rose Parade

Mt. Miguel Band Wins Top Honors

"It is great! Members of the band have worked hard for this honor!

This comment was made by Mrs. Jean Veliquette, chairman of the Mt. Miguel Band Parents. The band won first place honors in the Autumn Band Review held in San Diego Saturday.

They also won the right to represent San Diego County in the 80th Annual Rose Parade that will be held on New Year's Day in Pasadena, Calif.

In addition to the Rose Parade honor, the Matadors will be the lead band in the San Diego 200th Anniversary Celebration parade.

The Mt. Miguel band came out on top in the competition with 14 other bands from the county. This is the fourth time since 1959 that they have won the honor of appearing in the Rose Parade.

The first year that they won the contest was in 1959. They repeated their success in 1963, '64, and this year.

Needs Funds

The band, under the direction of Lawrence Curtis, has Ron Vance and Jan Johnson, acting as drum majors. The solo twirler is Jeannie Veliquette.

The 110 piece band will need more than $2,500 to finance the trip to Pasadena. Mrs. Veliquette said that the band parents will get down to the task of raising funds for the overnight stay.

Curtis, who has two of his own children playing in the band was a member of the Tournament of Roses Band in the 1948 and 1949 parades.

His son Mike, a junior plays clarinet while a daughter April, a freshman, plays the saxophone.

The band has a busy schedule ahead of them prior to the Pasadena parade. They are slated for nine parades, and six half-time shows.

The band also won an additional award in the San Diego contest when they marched past the review stand to the music of "Purple Carnival."

Other winners in the parade included Monte Vista High School, first place in Class AA, Helix High, second and El Cajon High, in third place in the same class.

The colors of the Matadors are red and black.

Medical Group Expands Facilities

The Lemon Grove Medical Group, at 3240 Main st., will expand existing facilities substantially, it was announced this week by Merrill Weber, administrator for the group. Four additional medical suites and four new doctors will be added, he said.

The Group was started by Dr. Wesley R. Herbert soon after the end of WWII. He was joined by Dr. Si Brumbaugh a few years later.

The Group now consists of nine doctors with ancilliary services which include X-ray, lab and physical therapy.

The facility has undergone three expansions to its present 17,000 square feet of floor space.

The four new doctors who will become associated with the Group as the expansion progresses have not been named although three have indicated their intentions to become associated before July 1, 1969, when the program will be completed.

The four new suites will add 5,000 square feet to the building.

Rezone Rejection Handed To Developer

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — Another request for R-3 (apartment) zoning in the Lemon Grove section around Massachusetts ave. and Mt. Vernon st. was turned down Friday by the county planning commission.

This request was for seven acres of land owned by D. D. Richie at the southwest corner of Mt. Vernon and Berry.

The previous request was for land two blocks to the north owned by R. A. Weeks and others.

The present zone is R-2-A, a zone that allows two dwellings on a lot of 6,000 square feet, either separate or a duplex.

Zoning Chief John Cassidy said there is no demonstrated need for a zone change. He said the housing demand in this area could be accommodated under the existing zoning.

Much of the land is developed for single family residential purposes. Cassidy said property within 300 feet of the Richie property has developed with the light density of two units per acre, whereas R-3 allows 43 units per acre.

(Forty-three units per acre is based on one unit per each 1,000 square feet of land, but it is also an apparently impossible figure as 43 units on one acre with a two-story limitation probably could not be acnieved.)

Richie said R-3 zoning would allow the most efficient use of the land.

Cassidy said that a development of 105 units could be built on the seven acres through the use of the neighborhood housing development concept with a special use permit. Richie did not appear to hear this suggestion. At least he did not comment on it.

Dry Cleaner Featured In Publication

A Lemon Grove man achieved a degree of fame this month when he was subject of a feature article in a nationally distributed magazine.

The man is Bill Vandenberg, operator of Dutch Cleaners on Broadway in Lemon Grove.

The magazine is DRY-CLEANING WORLD, one of the nation's outstanding publications in its field.

The article about Vandenberg covers three full pages anad displays five pictures of him and his dry cleaning shop.

The story is how Vandenberg developed a machine for dry cleaning draperies and how he dramatized this phase of the business as "prestige" business.

No More Hospital Money

Voters need to support the Grossmont Hospital bond issue like they need another hole in the head.

Grossmont's Board of Directors are asking voters to add another $6 million to the District's bonded indebtedness for an expansion program.

The cost of expansion would be levied as a new tax against property owners in the sprawling Grossmont Hospital District.

The Board originally discussed asking voters to support an $8½ million issue to build two five-story wings but the tax temper of the times apparently made Board members apply a degree of prudence. In an open meeting on August 21 the Board, without public discussion regarding a lesser issue, unanimously approved a six million dollar issue and agreed that it would use it to build a five-story single wing.

This suggests that the Board had a closed meeting — a meeting which is strictly illegal under the Brown Act — but trustees denied wrong-doing.

Whether the Board broke the anti-secrecy law or not has no bearing on the need for expanding Grossmont facilities. Only research can provide this answer.

If there is no need, any cost is too much. If there is a need, a searching study should be made as to how the overburdened homeowner can be given a better share of the tender, loving care that is often prescribed for the ailing.

Let's start with taxes. For every $100 of assessed valuation of property in the Grossmont Hospital District, there is presently a tax of 18 cents. If the issue passes, another 8.3 cents will be added. This money would repay the various bond issues by which the hospital was built and expanded. About half of the present 18c obligation would be dropped, a hospital spokesman said.

Let's look at patient cost. Some patients pay more than $84 a day at Grossmont, but generally, the rates are $50-$55 a day. There are few rooms available there today.

But rooms are available at other local hospitals. More than 100 beds were immediately available at hospitals in the El Cajon-La Mesa area on the day of the survey. None was listed at a rate higher than $45 — and these beds are in privately owned hospitals; hospitals being operated at a profit.

Something is wrong arithmetically when a hospital facility, built with private funds can be operated at a profit, and expanded with private funds while the District property owners are required to pay off bonded indebtedness that would be paid off via profits if it were a privately owned hospital.

The suggestion that a $4 a day surcharge be laid on patients

COMMISSION REGAINED — Municipal Court Judge Luther N. Hussey, of Lemon Grove, views his newly regained Commission as Kentucky Colonel, as Kentuckian Max Goodwin looks on.

Judge Luther Hussey Receives Commission

San Diego Municipal Court Judge Luther N. Hussey, of 7250 San Miguel , Lemon Grove, was proudly displaying his newly acquired 1968 issue Kentucky Colonel's Commission this week.

One of the first persons he showed it off to was Max Goodwin, local newspaperman, who lived in Kentucky prior to WWII.

Judge Hussey had been commissioned in 1946 when he resided in the District of Columbus but lost his certificate as he moved about the countryside.

Earlier this year when the judge was attending the College of Trial Judges at Chapel Hill, N.C., he told Kentucky Circuit Judge Robert Lukowski of his plight.

Judge Lukowski replied, "Once a Kentucky Colonel, always a Kentucky Colonel,' the Commission.

This week, Judge Hussey, a Georgian by birth, was proudly displaying his re-issued Commission.

The charge inscirbed on it reads: "Honorable Luther N. Hussey is commissioned a Kentucky Colonel. I hereby confer this honor with all its rights, privileges and responsibilities thereunto appertaining."

It was signed by Kentucky Governor Louie B. Nunn. and forthwith requested the Governor of the Commonwealth of Kentucky to re-issue

Judge Hussey said that the Commission probably obligated him to encourage greater use of the prime products of the Commonwealth of Kentucky.

He didn't say whether he referred to bourbon or chicken, both famed Kentucky products.

Goodwin said, "I'll drink to that."

It's just this: "Directory Assistance" actually is a better description of her job, which is to help you find a number that isn't in your phone book. And here's a helpful hint: Jot down the number next time you have to call "Directory Assistance" for help. You'll have it handy when you want it, and save making two calls again when one will do.

Stevens, a junior high school student, is building his own stock car that will be used in races at Cajon Speedway in 1969.
Vatalar, owner of Vito's Shell Station at 7895 Skyline dr., has been helping the teenager rebuild the engine. He has also helped to supply parts needed in the project.

Just Turn The Key On

Teenager Builds Own Racing Car; Hopes To Enter Auto In Competition

BY JACK POLLARD

As one season draws to a close in auto stock car racing in this area, the beginning of a new season is opening up for one person.

This one person is Richard H. Stevens, a 13year-old junior high school student. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Stevens of 7156 Windward st., in the Heritage Homes area.

He is in the process of building his own stock car that will be seen at the Cajon Speedway next season.

Stevens, who is called "R.H." for short is building his own car from bottom on up through to the roof top. He has a 1956 Studebaker car that is getting the full treatment.

The engine is getting a thorough overhaul at Vito's Shell Station on 7895 Skyline dr., with new parts being added where needed. Reworking of all parts that need it is also being permored.

He expects to have the car in running condition around the last part of March of 1969.

New Look

The interior of the once street car, has been completely torn out. The seats are no longer in the vehicle. They too have been ripped out.

The car has a new air-conditioning system — no windows are in the future race car.

The youth said, "That was the easy part of the project. What to come is going to be a little harder . . . that is putting the engine back together to mold a winning race car."

Racing is not new to this young man. He was introduced to the sport when he was nine years old.

He was a spectator at the auto races at Cajon Speedway. In the last four years he has missed only a few races that have been held at the local track.

Top Race Driver Helps

He comes from a "racing environment". His father, Hugh, is also interested in the sport and is expected to be seen behind the wheel once the car is on the move.

Bill Bramley, one of the top drivers at the speedway is a neighbor. He has been instrumental in helping the teenager with the building of his car.

R.H., when the races are in process can be seen selling programs at the track to get the money needed for parts for his car.

Just Turn Key

He said, "When I started with this project, I knew that if you turned the key to the right that the engine would start. It is sure different now.

"I have helped Bramley on his car engine, which has aided me in gaining the needed knowledge to build my own car.

It is going to be worth it to see an engine that I have rebuilt kick over and start up."

He continued, "It is probably the best thing that I can do. It sure keeps me busy in my spare time. It requires more work than what I thought it might but I'm looking forward to the finished product."

"One thing that I would like to do is get in the car when it is finished and get out there and race it, but I can't do that until I am at least 18 years-old," he said.

"You have to be 18 to drive at Cajon, and 21 years-old to race in the National American Stock Car Racing Association. That is when you are up with the big boys."

Major Job

Since he started working on his car, a new crank shaft has been added, new rings in the piston, main and rod bearings have been replaced with new ones, and a 3/4 racing camshaft has been installed.

He said, "When we took the old engine out, the inserts were missing. These fit down in the crank area and act as a cushion to reduce friction."

When the car is in running shape, he said that it should be able to do in the excess of 120 miles per hour, in a straight-away.

When asked about what he wants to do in the future he said, "Race against such drivers as A. J. Foyte — what else?"

Helix Grid Squad Takes On League Leaders Friday

BY TOM WARREN

The injury plagued Helix School football team will travel to El Capitan tomorrow to take on the league leading Vaqueros.

The favored Vaqueros, sparked by such standouts as halfback Fred Hight, wingback Joe Thogmartin, and center Steve Presley, enter the game un-defeated, as compared to the 3-1 record of the Scots.

El Capitan is coming off of a 19-18 upset victory over Grossmont last week. In that game Thogmartin scored all three Vaquero touchdowns, on four, six, and 14-yard runs.

The winning point in the game was tallied by George Savage as he converted an extra point in the closing minutes of the game.

The Lakeside eleven moved Height to the quarterback position for the game, to replace the injured Steve Vickery. Vickery suffered severely torn ligaments three weeks ago against Granite Hills and will probably be out for the season.

Helix enters the contest without the services of junior Curt Brown, who was operated on Saturday for torn ligaments incurred in the Mt. Miguel game last Friday.

The injury, which came in the third quarter, will sideline the aggressive linebacker for the balance of the season.

In last Friday's game the Scots blistered Mt. Miguel's Matadors for a 13-6 win. The Matadors took first blood in the battle, on a 14-yard scoring run by Steve Bailey in the first quarter. It was Mt. Miguel's first tally of the season.

In total yardage Helix gained 125 yards in comparison to the Matador's 124.

Highlander coach Al Hammerschmidt singled out Milan oung, Bill Denhart, Bruce Walton, Paddock Coover, and Brown (up until the time of his injury) for outstanding play in the game.

At the same time, though, he pointed out the need for "better performances from the running backs if the team is going to beat El Capitan tomorrow night."

He is "optimistic" that they can improve sufficiently and gives the team an excellent chance of defeating the undefeated Vaqueros.

You And The Propositions

7 STATE FUNDS: Legislative Constitutional Amendment. This measure would provide that money allocated from the State General Fund to any county, city and county, or city may be used for local purposes.

8 APPORTIONMENT OF LOCAL SALES AND USE TAX: This is a Legislative Constitutional Amendment. This measure would allow the legislature, by general law to authorize counties, cities and counties, and cities to contract apportion between themselves money collected by the state.

THIS newspaper presents to its readers, in a five part series, both the pros and cons, for Propositions 1-9 that will be on the ballot in the Nov. 5 general elections.

This presentation does not reflect the opinions of this publication nor is it intended to direct the voter to cast his or her ballot in any particular direction.

The Pros and Cons are a reproduction of part of those that have been compiled by George H. Murphy, Legislative Counsel, and certified as correct by Frank M. Jordan, Secretary of State.

Use Of State Funds

Pro

A "Yes" vote on this proposition will permit the Legislature to authorize the use of existing state allocated funds by cities and counties for their purposes.

State allocations to both must now be used for state purposes even though the revenue being allocated by the state is a replacement for taxes which at one time were levied and collected locally.

Auto, Cigarette Tax

Two examples are motor vehicle license fees aand cigarette taxes.

When motor vehciles were assessed and taxed locally as personal property, the revenue went into local general funds.

The same thing is true of cigarette taxes.

Both of these taxes are now levied and collected by the state in lieu of anay local taxes and the revenue is returned to counties and cities.

However, when the revenue is returned to them, it must be put into a special fund to be used for state purposes.

The effect of the present law is to keep the pressure on property taxes and other new sources of local revenue for local purposes.

This presentation was made by Assemblyman John G. Veneman, Edward H. Rademacher, president of the league of Calif. Cities, and Dudley E. Browne, president of the Cali. Taxpayers Assoc.

Con

Present law allows cities and counties to spend money that they receive from the state for state purposes only.

Proposition 7 would allow these entities to spend monies received from the state for city and county purposes as well.

One of the basic principles of our form of government is that powers of government, including tax collection and spending, be held and exercised as closely as possible to the people most directly affected by them.

The federal government, thus, is giving responsibility for tasks such as national defense, which can best be permored by one authority for the nation as a whole.

State governments have ultimate responsibility for intermediate functions.

If counties and cities need more revenue, they should be required to raise it themselves, provided that city and county officials can convince their electorate that additional taxing and spending is necessary.

If they fail to convince their voters of this, they should not be able to go to a more distant or higher level of government, namely, the state, to get funds for projects that their own people have voted against.

This presentation was made by James E. Whetmore, Senator of the 35th District.

Sharing Sales Tax Money

Pro

Frequently the location of large new shopping centers creates inequitable shifts in the manner in which sales taxes are turned over to local governments.

These new centers draw their patrons from a wide area which reaches far outside the boundaries of the city or county in which the shopping center is located.

When this happens, surrounding cities and unincorporated areas may have a sharp drop in retail sales with a corresponding loss in sales tax revenues.

Increase Property Taxes

They may have to increaase property taxes to make up the loss.

Because a shopping center may mean an increase in sales tax revenues for only one local agency and a loss for another.

The local location of such centers often causes bitter arguments and hostile rivalries among local governments.

There is now way under the present Constitution that cities or counties may share sales tax revenues from shopping centers even though this would be the fairest thing to do.

This presentation was made by Assemblyman John T. Knox, and Assemblyman Frank Lanaterman.

More than 18,000 San Diego county girls and women are participating in YWCA activities. United Crusade funds help to support the YWCA program.

Con

This Amendment Proposal is not in the best long-range interests of the People of the State of Calif.

Taxation at all levels of government, has been continually increasing . . . with no end in sight.

As taxes go up, a serious financial burden is being imposed on more and more people . . . especially those on fixed or modest incomes.

The imperative need of our times, is to curb government spending and reduce taxation . . . not to seek new ways to impose taxes and apportion revenues (as this Amendment Proposal does).

Unless spending and taxation are reduced at all levels of government, the supposed Servant of the People will instead become their Enslaver.

There is no surer route to slavery than through unrestrained taxation of the People's substance.

No triumph of a foreign ideology or internal conspiracy could enslave the people more thoroughly than they could be through confiscatory taxation.

The thinking behind this Amendment Proposal is totally repugnant as it opens the door to enacment of laws that would increase the present tax burden.

This presentation was made by Fred E. Huntley of Berkeley, Calif.

Learn Spanish the Easy Way

Hardison's Telespanish

by James Hardison

What are some names of basic colors in Spanish? Do the colors have symbolic meanings like, white stands for purity, and blue symbolizes royalty?

Some basic colors are "rojo" (red), "blanco" (white), "azul" (blue), "verde" (green) and "negro" (black). Colors like "cafe" (brown) and "naranja" (orange) take on the names of the objects they most closely resemble in color.

Colors appear to have a universal set of symbols which are not limited to Spanish or English. For example, the color "azul" (blue) is symbolic of truth, constancy, and fidelity. This association is at conflict with our notion of "Blue Monday" which should imply the symbol of drudgery.

The color "blanco" (white) is symbolic of purity and wisdom. This is best represented in the color of wedding gowns which are universally while with but few exceptions.

Symbol identity for "rojo" (red) is interesting as it can represent courage, strength, patriatism, or even love, valor, danger, or heat, according to one authority.

More complex yet is "verde" (green). It symbolizes youth, vigor, prosperity, hope regeneration, and freshness. Maybe it is easier to accept "los colores" (the colors) and use them symbolically the way you choose.

You may wish to expand your color experience and your Spanish speaking ability by practicing the phrases below. See if you can say them with the recorded voice when you dial 276-2762 on your telephone.

IMPORTANT PHRASES

Say "Que color es?" (keh koh-LOHR ehs) for "What color is it?"
Say "Es verde." (ehs VEHR-deh)
for "It is green."

USEFUL PHRASES

Say "Rojo brilla mucho." (ROH-hoh B R E E-y a h MOO-choh) for "Red shines a lot."
Say "Blanco refleja la luz." (BLAHN-koh reh-FLEH-hah lah LOOZ) for "White reflects the light."

OTHER PHRASES

Say "Le gustan los colores?" (leh GOOS-tahn lohs koh-LOH-rehs)
for "Do you like the colors?"
Say "S o n Bonitos." (SOHN boh-NEE-tohs)
for "They are pretty."

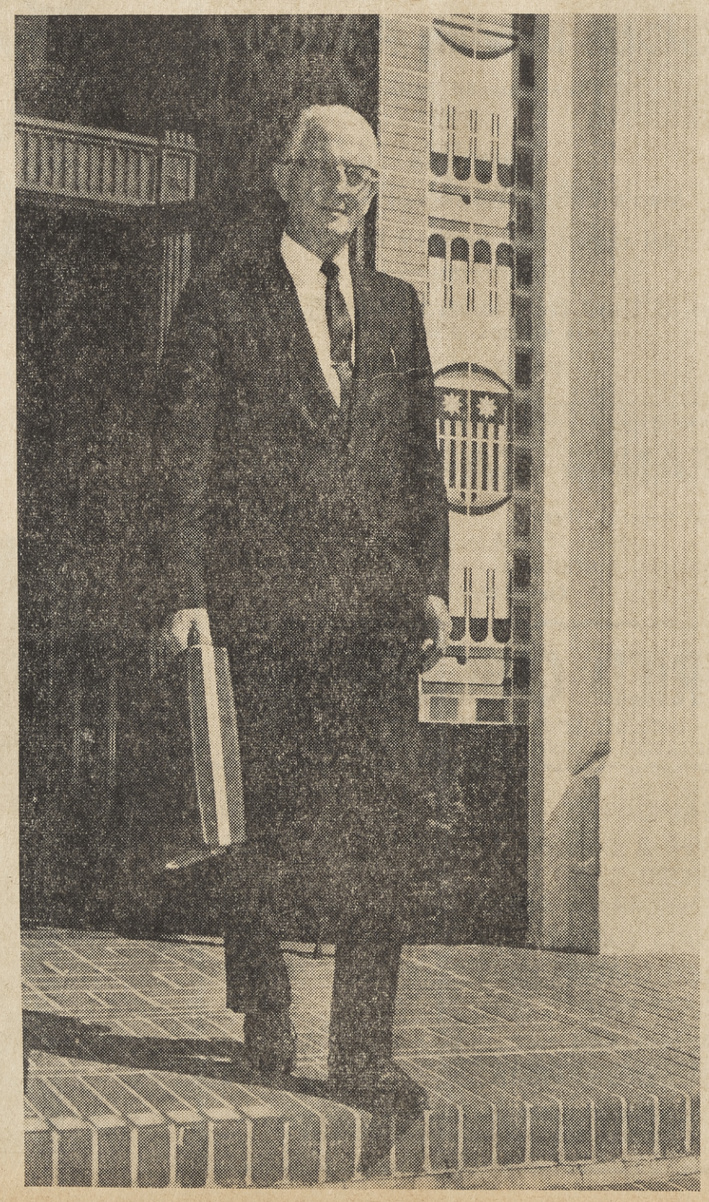
"BOB" DENT'S OPPONENT CRIES CRISIS IN COUNTY GOVERNMENT AND CLAIMS THAT HE HAS ALL THE ANSWERS...Let's Not Be Fooled By Political Opportunists



He talks about the age of some of the supervisors, but does not mention their experience and accomplishments. He claims some of the Supervisors (names not mentioned) are wasting tax dollars and says the county budget is highest in history (he forgets about the vast increase in population). He says these are dynamic times and claims solutions of days gone by are not sufficient for today.

In fact, he is egotistical enough to believe that he is the solution to a crisis that does NOT exist.

Dent's Opponent Says:

I am concerned about waste in the administry of welfare. So is "BOB" DENT who has consistently fought to keep welfare costs and practices within a reasonable budget for years.

He says that he is concerned about the lack of planning in the county, so that we can meet the problems of today and tomorrow.

"BOB" DENT has a reputation throughout the county for his far-sighted planning and record of getting things done without excessive expenditures.

"BOB" DENT is widely recognized as the Watchdog of the County Treasury and believes in carefully studied economy with your Tax Dollars as well as a policy of long-range controlled planning for the County development.

Dent's Opponent Says That He Is Concerned

My Opponent Says: I am concerned about the "Business as Usual" attitude of the Board of Supervisors while the tax rate continues to rise with nothing unusual accomplished.

"BOB" DENT is confident that San Diego County government can continue to operate on a common sense "business as usual" procedure that will meet the challenge of dynamic growth without introducing "costly experimental" ideas in the guise of action and personal gratification.

Let's not rock the boat and before you vote November 5th, check the record of your present full-time, on-the-job Supervisor, dependable "Bob" Dent.

DENT SAYS . . .

"I believe that the principles of sound tax economies, common sense administration, and progressive planning will serve the County better than proposed radical changes that are changes for change's sake, alone."

"Bob" Dent originated a program for collecting welfare and County Hospital Funds that has returned over $2,500,000 to the County Treasurer, the amount collected is destined to increase every year.

Miguel Concert Choir Opens Season Nov. 4

The Mt. Miguel High School Concert Choir will make its first appearance of the year at the Grossmont District Fall Choir Workshop on Nov. 4. The school will host the festival, which begins at 7:15 p.m.

Robert Boucher, director, said that the 90-voiced choir is progressing rapidly and promises to be another outstanding choral group.

Plans for the Christmas season include a Christmas concert in Tecate on Dec. 13, and the annual Christmas concert at Mt. Miguel on Dec. 14.

Newly elected officers of the Mt. Miguel Choir are Dennis Spry, president; Margie Gowin, vice-president; Joy Kemp, secretary, and Lauren Helmuth, treasurer.

Other members of the choir board include committee chairmen, Rebecca Arabie; robe chairman, Genie Edwards; social chairman, Jeff Heath; and properties chairman, Jan Isley.

Also historian, Marc Richard; photographer, Ree Taylor; homecoming chairman, Nancy Knight; librarian, and Shirley Hamilton; Christmas Concert chairman.

Beverly Reynolds is the accompanist.

Texas produces most of the winter bets raised in this country.

from beyond the district doesn't help much. They ought to do that anyhow and use this money for salary increases for nurses and their aides.

Private enterprise is finding building and operating hospitals profitable today. Ground was broken at 10.30 a.m. yesterday at Alvarado Medical Center for the first element of a hospital complex. The general hospital part of the project will contain 300 beds and completion date is set for late '69. Foothills Medical hospital is reported to be starting at once a 237-bed expansion. A group of doctors in Lemon Grove are pushing their architect to complete plans for a medical hospital to be constructed in the middle of Lemon Grove. These facilities will not use public funds. Rather, they'll contribute taxes which will help keep the tax rate down.

And finally, what happened to the promise made more than ten years ago by Grossmont hospital authorities that a branch hospital would be established between Lemon Grove and Spring Valley?

As a parting shot, reference could be made to an editorial in this publication at the time of the last bond issue when it recommended that we let the staff doctors of Grossmont Hospital form a corporation for the purpose of taking the hospital off the District's hands. Let 'em have it for the mortgage due. If they take it, it'll be a burden off the taxpayer. If they refuse, there would be reason to believe we've been led down the primrose path.

Regardless of which of these many objections he chooses, the overburdened taxpayers will reject the hospital bond issue Nov. 5.

Monarchs Look For Grossmont Upset In Friday Grid Battle

BY SCOTT McGAUGH

The Monte Vista High School football team will be upset-minded as they take on a tough Grossmont squad Friday night ata Helix High School in an 8 p.m. clash.

The Monarchs will have to put everything together as the Foothillers will be up for the game after a loss to El Capitan last Friday.

Grossmont is 2-1 and tied for second in the league.

The Monarch defense will have to be at its best as they take on the two and three runners in the league in Phil llen and Dennis Sutton.

The defensive line of Dan Thorpe, Bob Thompson, Steve Etchings, Jess Bower, and Jim Patterson is one of the best in the league.

Still Smarting

The Monarchs are smarting after a 25-0 whipping last Friday by Granite Hills at the Monarchs' Homecoming.

The first half was largely a defensive one as the only touchdown came on an unusual play.

Eale Tim Doerr ran deep into Monarch territory but fumbled into the end zone. Then Eugene Skogland recovered for an Eagle touchdown.

The Eagles then came on to score twice in the third period and put any Monarch hopes for a win on ice.

Grossmont has displayed a balanced attack against all comers and the Monarchs' defensive secondary will have to sparkle.

Bill Worden, Bob Mattin, Vince Campoli, and Bill Thompson have all done well this season.

Key Problem

The Monarch offense has been the key problem though so far. The Monarchs gained only 85 yards last week against the Eagles. Vince Campoli has been a surprise standout as a running back after Rob Wescott was sidelined for the season with an injured kidney.

Coach Dave Fager cited Dennis Weikel and Rudy Oriol for their play last week at linebacker positions. Vince Campoli was again the workhorse of the Monarch offense.

Friday will provide the Monarchs' with their biggest chance for a season highlight with hopes that everything will go right for the victory.

Roadrunners Drop Southeastern, 40-6 In Pop Warner Play

The Los Toros Roadrunners dropped Southeastern 40-6 last Saturday in Pop Warner football action. Sam Smith scored four times and Mike Benson crossed the goal line twice as the Los Toros Midget machine continued to roll.

The Roadrunner defense held Southeastern to three first downs, and the entire Los Toros squad appeared to finish as strong as it started. Saturday the Roadrunners face La Mesa at Mt. Miguel Field.

The Los Toros Brahmas crushed Southeastern's Pee Wees 54-0. The Brahma offense rolled up 343 yards to Southeastern's minus 21.

Backs Krings, McPherson, Benson, Dodd, Fleming, and Kleine got into the scoring act, while Head Coach Bill Smith praised his entire team for an outstanding effort

Grove Soccer Teams Open Action Saturday

Three Lemon Grove socer teams will swing into action Saturday in the start of the San Diego County Junior Soccer League competition.

The three teams, the Kickers (boys 15-18) the Challengers (12-15) and the Hawks (12 and under) represent the largest entry in the league from a community.

The Kickers will clash with the San Diego Boys Club in a 2:50 p.m. game at Robb Field, Ocean Beach.

The Challengers will move into action at 3:05 p.m. at Las Palmas Park in National City when they take on the San Ysidro Tigers.

The Haws will play the La Jolla Lightnings in a 2:05 p.m. game at State College.

Chargers Play Sunday

The San Diego Chargers with a 5-1 record will take on Kansas City Sunday afternoon at Kansas City in a 1 p.m. clash that is expected to be a sellout.

Water Polo Team Emerges As Power House

The Monte Vista High School water polo squad has emerged as one of the top contenders for the county title this year as they whipped Hilltop, 6-5, in overtime Friday.

The Monarchs are 4-0 this year and are setting their sights for their first CIF title. Water polo is only in its second season at Monte Vista.

Rob Morell and Gordon Dunnille were the scoring leaders for the Monarchs as they each scored three times. Morell's final goal won the game for the Monarchs.

Goalie John Krattli turned in another fine performance as he was credited with 15 saves in the nets. Krattli has averaged over 12 saves a game for the Monarchs.

Morell and Dunnill have consistantly been the scoring leaders with Dunnill setting a new record earlier in the season with nine tallies.

The Monarch's next battle will take place Friday at the Army-Navy Academy.

Hilltop was ranked third in the county last year.

Aztecs Take On San Jose State Friday Night

The San Jose State Spartans football team will come to San Diego Stadium Saturday night at 8 p.m. with the idea of putting the damper on San Diego State College's homecoming festivities.

San Jose State holds a 2-2 record while San Diego State stands at 5-0 after beating Cal State Los Angeles, 37-14, last Saturday.

The Spartans have lost to California, 46-0, and Stanford, 68-20, while beating Fresno State, 25-21, and the University of New Mexico, 55-24.

Saturday night's game will be the 19th meeting between the two universities with San Diego State being on the short side of a 14-3-1 record.

The Aztecs won the last game between the two teams, however, a 25-0 triumph at San Jose in 1966 when SDS had its only unbeaten, untied season.

San Diego State teams have now won 31 of their last 32 games and 34 of 37 over the past four seasons.

Dear Bill:

Your concern over Eldridge Cleaver speaking on the campus of the University of California in San Diego was brought to my attention, and you are certainly to be commended for the position you have taken. It is unfortunate that your sincere efforts did not succeed.

I am sure your request to President McGill to cancel Cleaver's appearance on the campus reflects a viewpoint that is shared by a majority of our citizens.

A person of your courage and convictions would certainly be an asset in the legislative branch of state government.

With kind personal regards,

Sincerely,

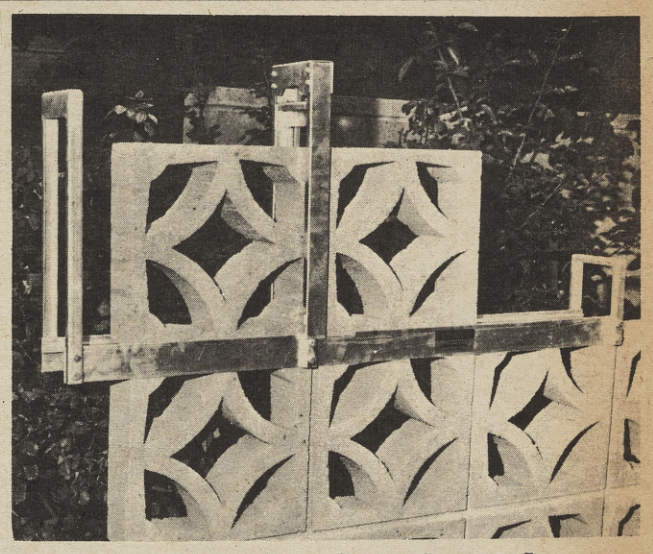
Spring Valley Man Invents Unique Tool— Now Amateurs Build Quality Block Walls

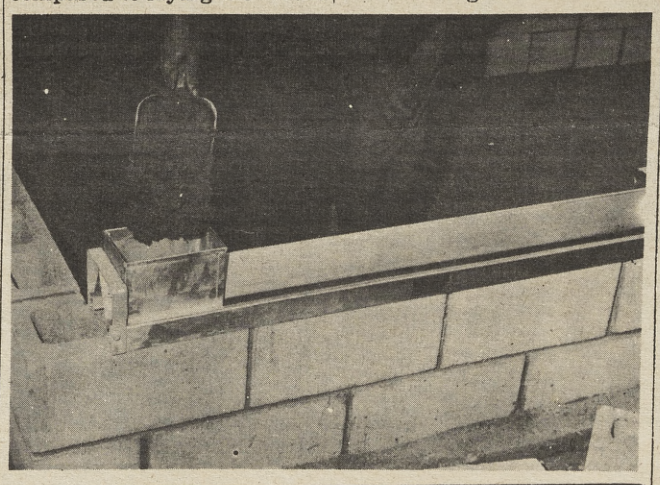
Max E. Brewer, of 10226 Don Pico Road, Spring Valley, has developed a mechanical device, called THE BLOCKMASTER, that makes it possible for almost any one to lay up a block wall with results that would do justice to a professional.

The other tool, also invented by Max Brewer, is called THE MORTARMASTER. This ingenious new method of applying mortar enables any amateur to apply approximately 45 inches of mortar in about 15 seconds —and the mortar will be positioned properly in exactly the correct amount.

Homeowners that have used these tools are very pleased with their beautiful block walls, and are especially appreciative of how much time and labor was saved by hand. Another feature compared to laying the blocks that has won approval is that both THE BLOCKMASTER and THE MORTARMASTER may be rented from most tool rentals, or masonry supply houses.

Many remodeling contractors, specializing in room additions and other types of construction work have purchased these two tools to speed up the completion date of their regular work.





How's Your Kitchen Comfort Quotient?

Are you planning to remodel your kitchen this winter? If so, determine the "comfort quotient" of your present kitchen by answering yes or no to the following questions. By seeing its shortcomings, you can plan your new kitchen better, the Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Information Bureau points out.

1. Are the sink and working countertops the right height for you?
2. Do you have enough cabinet space?
3. Is the kitchen laid out around your sink, with the various applicances logically placed to minimize the number of steps you must take while preparing food?
4. Do the cabinets and drawers open and close smoothly?
4. Are the cabinets easy to keep clean?
6. Do you have enough ventilation??
7. Is the lighting adequate?
8. Are the walls and floors easy to keep clean?
9. Do you have enough hot water every time you want it?
10. Is your sink double-bowl?
11. Do your faucets shut off tight?
12. Does the sink have a spray hose?
13. Do the faucets have built-in aerators?
14. Does the sink have a built-in stopper?
15. Does the sink have adequate drainboards?
16. Do you have a food waste disposer?
17. Do you have an automatic dishwasher??
18. Does your range have its oven and broiler at eye level?
19. Is your refrigerator large enough for your family?
20. Does your refrigerator

Banshees In Your Bathroom?

Does an eerie scream rent the air at your house at unexpected times? If so, startled guests may think you're harboring a banshee, but you know better. The sound is human — coming from someone who's taking a shower that suddenly went icy cold or scalding hot.

If this ever occurs at your house, you can correct it easily, says the Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Information Bureau. What you need is an automatically controlled mixing valve.

According to Howard Griesbach of Powers Regulator Co., a firm that helped pioneer all types of shower and bath controls, a mixing valve is available that regulates the temperature of the water. You preset the temperature before turning it on. The water then remains at that temperature regardless of sudden changes in water pressure, since the valve compensates for them. There are no more sudden rushes of cold or hot water.

If you're getting a trickle from your shower instead of a stpray, you may need a new showerhead too. The new models have a range of adjustments from a fine needle spray to a drenching stream. Another adjustment enables the bather to concentrate the flow of water directly on himself. This means less splattering and substantioal saving in water use.

With a modern shower, your family can resume singing instead of screaming during their ablutions.

Make a Dining Room Appear!

If you want to dine elegantly, but can't spare dining room space, consider this solution. Picture yards and yards of lovely gold fabric which create the illusion of a formal dining room in an apartment foyer. (Could also be done at one end of a living room). Create a gazebo effect with a simple carpentry frame, lavishly draped inside and out to conceal the lumber. Add scalloped valance and tie-back draperies, outlined in nylon velvet turquoise ribbon to match the shirred wall covering.

Luxurious, shag carpeting of Allied Chemical Corporation's Caprolan nylon in a tawny gold tweed coloration can provide elegance underfoot, plus easy maintenance. Ordinary lumber, cut octagonally, will create an unusual table shape, and to-the-floor drapery can camouflage its do-it-yourself origin.

A fitted black and white coverlet, a Schiffli embroidered fabric of Caprolan, can make a dramatic table topper. Repeat this on the armoire doors for extra excitement. Make seat pads of brick colored wide-wale ribbed nylon for an important color accent.

ELEGANT DINING SANS DINING ROOM . . . Gold fabric creates the illusion of a formal dining room in an apartment foyer (could be at end of a living room). Gazebo effect achieved with carpentry frame, lavishly draped. Luxurious yet easy-care shag rug carpeting of Caprolan nylon provides elegance with ease of maintenance. Designed by Mary Shepherd for Allied Chemical Corporation.

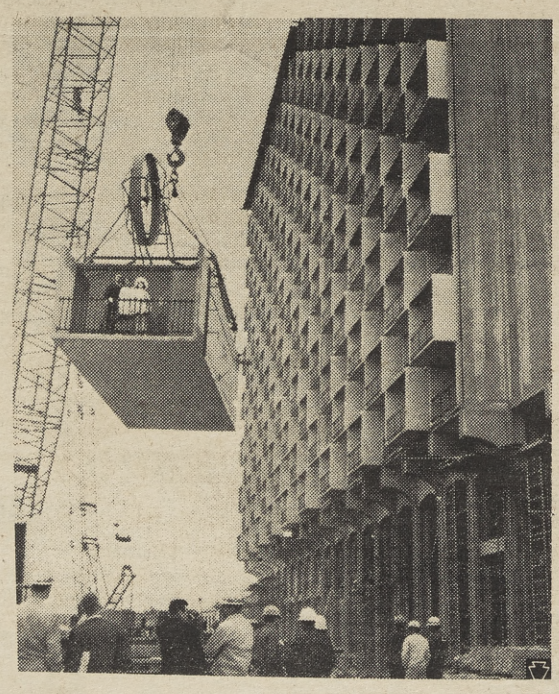
Next Step – Cloud 9 ! !



Completely furnished, right down to softened water and happy guests, this room is being hoisted into place in a new and novel hotel at HemisFair '68.

Water Wheel Principle Used In New Humidifier

The old fashioned water wheel concept is given a new turn in one of the appliance industry's newest products — the humidifier.

Two new models in the 1968 lineup of West Bend portable humidifiers provide moisturizing action by means of a revolving "water wheel" which remains in constant contact with water in the unit's 8½ gallon reservoir.

The "water wheel" moisurizing action, the manufacturer says, eliminates damaging dryness automatically without noise, gurgles, or other unpleasant side effects.

The "water wheel" principle also makes it impossible for ugly mineral deposits to collect on home furnishings. Dust problems are diminished because the filter washes itself clean with every revolution.

Dry air is drawn into the West Bend humidifier by a 10-inch fan and is forced through a revolving drum filter. A steady flow of humidified air is then discharged through openings at the top of the unit, so that there are no direct drafts. Adjustable grills direct the air in any desired direction.

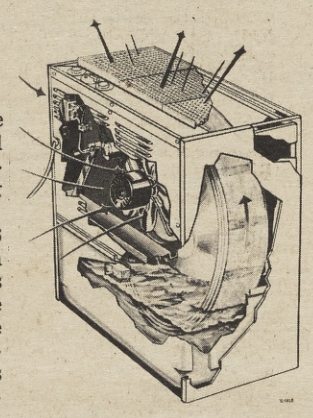
Water can be replaced in the reservoir from the front with the removal of a tilt-out front panel. And a refill indicator light glows when water is required.

Capable of humidifying 2,500 square feet of living area, or the equivalent of an average 8-room house, the new West Bend humidifiers are equipped with an automatic humidistat that activates the unit when the humidity level in the house drops below the comfort level. It also turns the unit off when that level again is reached to prevent over-humidification.

New Edging Aids Gardens

NEW YORK (a) — If you're interested in protecting and beautifying your lawn or garden, a new aluminum edging will be of interest to you.

The edging comes in 16 foot lengths, is one-eighth inch wide and four inches high. The strips are pliable enough so that they can be used in circular beds or irregular contours. The edging is easy to install. The strip is inserted into a shallow trench dug into the earth with about a quarter inch of edging protruding above the ground. Aluminum stakes are used at three or four foot intervals to hold it in place.



Water wheel action in West Bend humidifier directs steady flow of air through adjustable grills that direct the air in any desired direction.

Bold Style For Small Room

A small living room can be a little gem of style — for the uninhibited. Here is an example. The black and white color scheme is bold and complete. Using a second black and white stripe on one chair is part of the unity. Another color would seem extraneous. There is contrast within the scheme however — the whites vary in their off-whiteness and the blacks go from charcoal to ebony. The effect is contemporary and very smart with the Italian inspired furniture from Thomasville's "de Medici" Collection. And don't worry about a bit of crowding. It's part of intimacy and style of a small room.

WHAT A BIG DIFFERENCE REMODELED WINDOWS MAKE!

A summer home needn't be a stepchild. With wise planning, imagination and the right building materials, it can give you as much comfort and pleasure as a year-round home.

A good example of how remodeling can work wonders on a summer home is a vacation retreat that originally had two small bedrooms and an open living - dining - kitchen area. It was sufficient for the family, but there were insufficient facilities and little privacy for guests.

The owners decided on a room addition and refurbishing of the main house. More important, they geared the remodeling to good looks and low maintenance to assure maximum comfort, easy care and greater enjoyment of their summer quarters.

A new bedroom wing and a second bath were added to solve the space and privacy problems. A wood deck was extended to twice its size to provide a separate entry to the guest wing and an additional entry to the main house through sliding doors. Beauty and low maintenance were achieved through a careful choice of materials.

Casement windows were used in the room addition. Style choice was determined by the fact that some windows would have to be reached across a bed, and casements — which open with the turn of a handle — can be operated easily in awkward places. Also, the uninterrupted glass expanse of casements and fixed-glass windows allowed a wide view of the rustic scene outside.

Andersen Perma-Shield windows were chosen for their low - maintenance qualities. These windows, which have a rigid vinyl sheathing over a preservative-treated wood core, do not require painting and are permanently protected against the pitting, rusting or corroding that might otherwise occur from winter abuse. Welded insulating glass is standard with these units.

For maintenance-free exterior walls, the owners chose a rough-textured cedar siding that will weather naturally and enhance the house's rustic look. An eye - catching blue door, with fade-resistant color that doesn't need painting, has a white frame to match the vinyl sheathing of the windows.

The biggest change inside the original house was a new easy-care embossed vinyl flooring which runs through all the rooms, adding a new dimension of spaciousness and unity. Laminate - surfaced cabinets and counters were added to the kitchen for more eating and storage room and simplified upkeep. Emphasis on easy-care was also reflected in the new bath, which has a vinyl wallcovering and a fiber glass shower.

To give the house a country look inside as well as out, gay floral fabrics, deck chairs and wicker furniture were used extensively. Not surprisingly, fabrics were chosen for their washability and permanent-press finish.

ACCENT WITH LIGHTING

Lighting has long been a neglected factor when building a new home or remodeling an old one. The average builder will provide ceiling outlets in only a minimum of rooms and supply what usually turns out to be an insufficient allowance for the new home owner to purchase his fixtures. Often the lighting scheme is not considered until fixture selection time and then it's usually too late to do much but pick fixtures purely for their appearance.

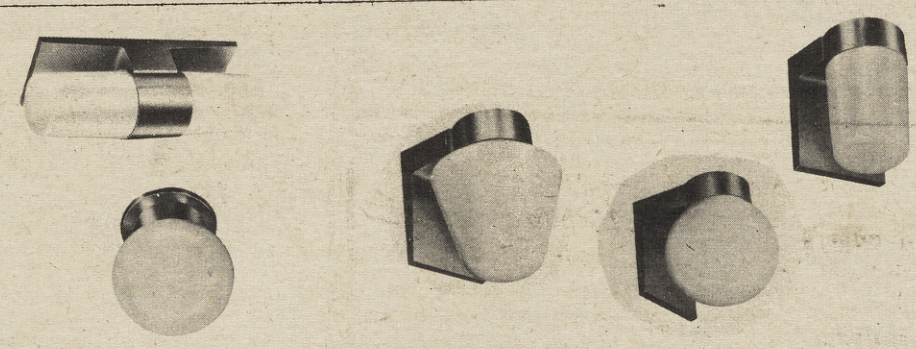
With a little thought in the planning stages of construction, you could create a lighting plan that would work functionally and also serve to accent your furnishings and decor. Recessed incandescent lighting can be best utilized for this purpose and is particularly effective when used in conjunction with decorative lighting.

Recessed lighting has many distinct advantages when properly planned into the modern home. First of all, the common incandescent bulb, while inexpensive gives off a light that is more complimentary to people and surrounding decor. Most important, is the great flexibility gained by use of dimmers, size, type and color of lamp, or by the trim selected. For example, in the Air King lighting line, one model Universal Round housing has 27 distinctly different trims to choose from, most of which are available in a variety of finishes. This selection of trims allows the builder, decorator or home owner to create effects to serve different purposes such as general lighting (for drapes and other furnishings), picture lighting, corridor and stairway illumination and even outdoor lighting when used in eaves and in over-hang. These various trims can control and direct the light, hide the source or even add, in itself, to the decor of the room.

Let's examine some of these applications in today's home. The place to start is in the kitchen; the most important room in the house, yet often the most neglected in good lighting practices. You can usually find in the average house a surface mounted fixture in the center kitchen ceiling plus a hanging decorative fixture in the breakfast area. Sometimes a builder will add a recessed light in the soffit over the sink and we won't forget the light in the range hood. If the general lighting comes from a center ceiling light, the housewife finds herself working in her own shadow at her counter area. I recommend the addition of recessed lighting to this type of setting. One suggestion would be to build out the cabinet soffit and add recessed "down Lighting". This serves two important functions: it lights the front counter work area from above, and in doing so, lights the cabinet fronts to bring out the warmth and highlights of the wood cabinetry. The beauty and texture of these cabinets are often wasted in flat general lighting.

If you have a large window in the breakfast or dining area, use recessed lighting to bring out the bright kitchen colors usually used in the drapes or curtains. 'Wall wash' or 'down light' trims are best for this purpose. Don't forget lighting over the desk now found in many contemporary kitchens.

Now we're off to a good start, let's have a look at the dining room. Most families are satisfied by a central hanging decorative fixture. This selection is complicated by the fact that many of these fixtures today have their design concentrated in decor and offer little in lighting performance.



This is especially true in fixtures utilizing the small candelabra base or flame shaped lamps. These bulbs are best used in smaller wattages for effect, yet, ths naturally detracts from the light output. Consider using two or more 'pinspots' over the table area. This will give a hidden light source for the table which could be precisely controlled by use of dimmer switch. This type of lighting will bring out the beauty of your table setting and enhance the food you serve. Now you can bulb your chandelier with lamps that serve a pure decorative function. Pictures, draperies and other furniture in the room could then be highlighted or accented by use of other pinshots, wall washes or 'eye balls'.

We won't do away with decoratve table or floor lamps in the living room; but, with a little planning, the beauty and texture of your draperies can be highlighted by wall washes. Additional wall washes, eye balls or optical recessed light can be effectively used to illuminate your paintings or other points of decorative interest.

The den or family room can be the most rewarding when planning a recessed lighting layout. To begin with, dark surfaces absorb light while light surfaces reflect it (a good rule to remember when planning your lighting for any room). Therefore, if dark paneling, drapes or furniture are used, more lighting is required. Many a beautiful fire place or richly paneled wall have been "lost" due to poorly planned or insufficent lighting.

The fire place is usually the focal point of the room, or at least, the center of your main conversation area. The depth and highlights plus the warm color of the brick, rock or stone can best be brought out by recessed down lighting or adjustable 'eyeballs'. If the front surface of the fireplace is relatively uniform, as in brick construction, an attractive scallop effect can be achieved by placing the fixtures close to the subject wall. Various inconspicuous recessed rounds can be placed over conversation areas for general lighting. Square or rectangular fixures can be selected for use in center ceiling areas for overall lighting. Don't forget highlighting bookshelves, pictures and draperies.

Air King Lighting offers exclusive line of solid walnut trims in rounds, squares and rectangles which can enhance the decor of dens, studies and family rooms, etc. These walnut trims are available in different wattage sizes plus a variety of trim styles to achieve all types of lighting effects. Against the white or light colored ceiling, these rich trims bring out and blend with other woodtone values in the room. To increase the interest the glass or inner portion of the trim is surrounded by a mat-black steel strip. This gives the illuminated area a "floating" effect.

Here's a suggestion for your closets: Why build an expensive house and then have a 25c porcelain socket with an open light bulb activated by a pull string. Use a single round or square recessed fixture with an inexpensive but efficient albalite diffuser. This would then be conveniently activated by a handy wall switch or door activated switch.

The bath or dressing areas can also be excellent locations for recessed lighting. Incandescent down - lighting over the mirror area can afford excellent lighting for shaving or make-up and is much more complimentary than flat fluorescent lighting often found over medicine cabinet or vanity. Simple open type trims can be selected here which use reflector type lamps. These lamps are efficient and generally last twice as long as conventional "a" type incandescent bulbs.

Well planned lighting can give utility as well as show off your furnishings and decor to its best advantage.
